MILLIONAIRES NO LONGER MAROONED

There is Accommodation
For Three Hundred
Of Them

Those marooned millionaires now said by the advocates for the suspension of the coastwise shipping laws as pining for any old opportunity of getting back to the mainland now have good and sufficient reasons for great rejoicing.

Deliverance from what is termed an irksome and enforced bondage is at hand. It comes in the form of three American steamships which are scheduled to sail from Honolulu for San Francisco within the next seven days, and in the aggregate these ships will have accommodation for at least three hundred first-class passengers.

For the person of asthetic temperament who balks at the possibility of traveling on a "freight boat" there awaits his or her pleasure the Pacific mail liner Korea. This vessel is due to arrive at Honolulu on Monday morning according to the best available advices received through her agents. The Korea is leaving Yokohama with comparatively few cabin passengers. H. Hackfeld & Co. have been notified that the Korea will be able to accommodate one hundred and twenty-five passengers in the saloon alone.

The Matsun Navigation steamer Lurline is leaving for San Francisco direct on Friday morning at 10 o'clock, and the advance bookings for this liner are at present very slim.

Notwithstanding the reflections cast upon this vessel by some of the supporters of the movement for the suspension of the coastwise shipping laws, the Lurline has large and ample cabins and is prepared to take a much larger number of intending travelers than the small number who have signified their intention of making a trip to the coast.

The popular San Francisco-Honolulu ferry boat Alameda, which in its day has brought many a man of millions to the Hawaiian Islands, is leaving here on Dec. 22, and unless there is a very large increase in the bookings for that vessel, the Alameda will get away for a return trip to San Francisco with many empty first-class staterooms. Hardly one-fourth of the available first-class passenger accommodation of the Oceanic liner has been taken up at the present time.

MAN OVERBOARD

Oachima, a Japanese fisherman, who was employed on the sampan Waka Hsu Maru, No. 202, was lost overboard while the vessel was on the voyage down to Kaula from Oahu.

It appears that the unfortunate man, who was off duty at the time, had got out of his bunk and gone forward, and had in some manner fallen overboard. The sampan cruised around the spot where the man was lost for some ten hours or so, but no sign of the Japanese was seen.

The captain of the sampan visited the police station last night and informed Sheriff Jarrett of the accident.

APPROPRIATION BILL IS READY

City and County Measure
Up For Action
Thursday

The appropriation bill covering the expenses of the City and County of Honolulu for the coming six months will come up for a final reading and passage by the members of the board.

The measure has been whipped into shape, including the addition of several amendments offered at the last meeting of the City and County salons.

At this meeting the salary rolls for the first half of the month of December will be presented and authority given for their payment.

At a meeting held at the city hall at noon today, a number of labor pay rolls were passed upon and ordered paid. Reports from several committees, including the ways and means, sanitation and health, fire and electric light, police maintenance and general expenditure, were received and approved.

CRAZY CHINESE CAUSES FRIGHT

Lum Chow, an aged Chinese, caused a sensation last night by walking into George Holt's house on the Asylum road and threatening to carve all the people in the house.

Not wishing to be operated on by an unqualified surgeon, the Holt family informed the police that the Chinese appeared to be crazy. Lum was captured and conveyed to the police house, where he is at present confined.

This morning some of Lum's relatives appeared at the police station and informed the Sheriff that they knew the old fellow was crazy and that they intended to send him back to China on the next boat. It was then decided to place Lum in the local nut factory until such time as a steamer left for China.

There are but two lay-over passengers booked for passage to the Orient by the Pacific Mail liner Asia which is due to arrive from San Francisco today. They are H. C. Struben and C. M. Remy.
